

Todd & Weld LLP

Arbitration and Mediation

Our attorneys apply the same expertise and experience they deploy in court proceedings to help clients achieve favorable and faster results in arbitration and mediation.

Arbitration and mediation offer individuals and companies facing legal disputes an alternative method to achieve favorable results. Todd & Weld attorneys regularly prosecute and defend arbitration proceedings, providing individual and institutional clients the creative solutions and aggressive representation they need to achieve early and successful results.

As trained negotiators with a deep understanding of the nuances and art of settlement negotiations, our attorneys apply those same skills to help clients achieve their goals through mediation.

We assist clients in a variety of alternative resolution matters, including:

- Business and commercial disputes
- Closely held company matters
- Construction litigation
- Employment
- Family law matters
- Partnership disputes
- Real estate

J. Owen Todd, a partner in the firm, also serves as a mediator and arbitrator in the resolution of civil disputes, including product liability, environmental issues, complex commercial litigation, employment discrimination and harassment, patent and copyright claims, divorce, probate litigation, and personal injury claims.

Mr. Todd brings decades of extraordinarily successful litigation experience to his ADR practice. A former Massachusetts Superior Court Judge, he has mediated and arbitrated over 500 cases.