

Todd & Weld LLP

Criminal Defense

Our criminal defense attorneys regularly represent individuals charged with traditional criminal conduct, including sexual assaults, violent crimes, and other serious criminal charges. We represent individuals and companies who are under investigation or who are being prosecuted in federal or state court by the U.S. Attorney's Office, the Massachusetts Attorney General's Office, or local District Attorney's Offices. Our team includes former government prosecutors who are skilled at guiding and advising individuals or families involved in the criminal justice system, whether as defendants, victims, or witnesses.

Related Practices

- Government Investigations and Criminal Defense
- Government Investigations
- White-Collar Criminal Defense
- School and University Disciplinary and Due Process Litigation
- Health Care Litigation