

Todd & Weld LLP

Government Investigations

In the critical pre-charging stages of a government investigation, our attorneys formulate effective strategies and provide practical guidance to clients to prevent or mitigate the potential impact of government enforcement or criminal prosecution. We work closely with clients to analyze factual and legal issues, and to develop the most appropriate strategies to accomplish the client's objectives. The professional experience, reputation, and integrity of the group's attorneys enable us to resolve sensitive, reputation-threatening investigations effectively and efficiently in a private, confidential manner.

Our attorneys regularly assist individuals and companies in conducting confidential internal investigations, responding to grand jury subpoenas, and negotiating alternative resolutions to ongoing criminal, civil, and administrative investigations.

Related Practices

- Government Investigations and Criminal Defense
- White-Collar Criminal Defense
- Criminal Defense
- School and University Disciplinary and Due Process Litigation
- Health Care Litigation