

Todd & Weld LLP

School and University Disciplinary and Due Process Litigation

We have substantial expertise in school and university due process related litigation, including Title IX investigations.

We advise and represent students at colleges and secondary schools throughout New England who are facing disciplinary proceedings and related Title IX investigations. Our experience and expertise enable us to effectively defend against allegations of sexual assault, harassment, and related school conduct and disciplinary issues.

Similarly, our lawyers advise and assist colleges and universities in Title IX matters and disciplinary proceedings, as well as related litigation matters.

We also represent victims of sexual assault or harassment and serve as independent investigators of alleged violations of Title IX.

Related Practices

- Government Investigations and Criminal Defense
- Government Investigations
- White-Collar Criminal Defense
- Criminal Defense
- Health Care Litigation